PLEASE READ THIS BETA AGREEMENT (“Beta Agreement”) CAREFULLY BEFORE USING (OR DOWNLOADING AS THE CASE MAY BE) ANY BETA PRODUCTS. BY USING OR DOWNLOADING ANY BETA PRODUCTS, AS APPLICABLE, YOU ARE AGREEING TO BE BOUND BY THE TERMS OF THIS BETA AGREEMENT. IF YOU DO NOT AGREE TO THE TERMS OF THIS BETA AGREEMENT, DO NOT USE THE BETA PRODUCTS.

This Beta Agreement sets forth the terms and conditions for any non-generally available products, features and services and related documentation that are provided to Customer or accessed by Customer and designated as beta, pilot, limited release, developer preview, evaluation, development or by a description of similar import (hereinafter, the “Beta Product(s)”). From time to time, Acquia may invite Customer to try the Beta Products by submitting a Beta Order to Customer. Customer may accept or decline any such Beta Order in its sole discretion. Each Beta Order shall be executed by Customer and Acquia and shall incorporate the provisions of this Agreement. In the event of any conflict between the terms of this Beta Agreement and of a Beta Order, the terms of the Beta Order shall prevail.

1. Term of Beta Agreement; Termination. This Beta Agreement shall commence upon the Effective Date indicated on the first duly executed Beta Order and shall expire upon the earlier of (a) the beta period as set forth in the applicable Beta Order, (b) the completion of the beta and any related services pursuant to Section 6, or (c) termination by either party upon five (5) days’ prior written notice to the other party (the “Beta Period”). The term of the limited rights granted hereunder may be extended only with the written consent of Acquia. Any extension shall be for the period permitted by Acquia, and otherwise under the terms and conditions of this Beta Agreement. Upon termination or expiration of this Beta Agreement, Customer shall immediately surrender all rights, licenses, and privileges granted under this Beta Agreement, and shall cease using the Beta Products and all property in its possession belonging to Acquia, including without limitation any Confidential Information.

2. Beta License Grant. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Beta Agreement, Acquia hereby grants to Customer a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable license, with no right to sublicense to access and use the Beta Product solely to evaluate the suitability of the Beta Product for Customer’s internal business requirements during the Beta Period (“Purpose”). Customer shall not use the Beta Product for any production or commercial purpose. Beta Products are not supported, may contain bugs or errors, and may be subject to additional terms. Acquia may, in its sole discretion, discontinue Beta Products at any time. Without limiting the restrictions set forth in Section 4, Beta Products may be in the form of Software Components (as defined herein). Such Beta Products shall only be used to upload, download and synchronize files between Customer’s Application or other devices and Acquia’s Services. By using such Beta Products Customer grants Acquia permission to access Customer Applications or other devices for the purpose of providing or enabling the Beta Products. For the avoidance of doubt, when Customer’s right to receive, and use the Beta Products terminates, Customer’s rights to access and use the Software Components shall also terminate. Upon such termination, Customer must (a) immediately destroy all copies of the Software Components, and (b) immediately and, upon Acquia request, provide Acquia with written certification of such destruction. Beta Products (including Software Components) may interoperate with certain software products, including open source software, owned by third parties and licensed directly to the Customer by such third party (“Third Party Software”). Such Third-Party Software is provided to the Customer without liability or obligation by Acquia and is governed by a license agreement directly between the Customer and the respective owner of the Third-Party Software. Such license agreement may be found in the relevant section of the user interface subdirectory made available to Customer.

For purposes of this Beta Agreement, Software Component(s) means certain enabling software and associated Documentation and explanatory materials for such Software Components, which may be separately provided by Acquia as an interoperability enabling or incidental part of the Subscription Services, only to be used in conjunction with the Subscription Services any proprietary notices or labels on the Beta Products; (h) create a competitive offering based on the Beta Products, or (i) provide access to the Beta Products to anyone other than Customer’s employees, contractors, or consultants who have agreed in writing to be bound by terms at least as protective of Acquia as those in this Beta Agreement (“Authorized Users”).
